Volunteer Marine Educator

Job Title: Volunteer Marine Educator
Organization: Zen4Blue Ocean Careers Nonprofit
Location: Remote

About Zen4Blue:

Zen4Blue is a nonprofit organization dedicated to inspiring and empowering the next generation of marine conservationists, researchers, and ocean leaders. Our mission is to provide career guidance, educational resources, and hands-on opportunities to those passionate about saving the ocean. Through dynamic programs, we engage young people (ages 18-25) in the critical work of preserving marine ecosystems.

Position Overview:

We are seeking a dedicated and passionate Volunteer Marine Educator to join our team. This individual will be responsible for presenting both recorded and live marine content via video and audio to audiences pursuing marine careers. The Volunteer Marine Educator will work closely with the Director of Education to develop curriculum, create quizzes, and inspire young learners to engage in ocean conservation. This role is ideal for someone who is enthusiastic about marine science and conservation and eager to share their expertise with the next generation of ocean advocates.
